

KEOHABITAT

KeoHabitat® is an innovative consulting and technological engineering service, able to combine quality, well-being, saving and safety.

KeoHabitat® solutions are designed to fit perfectly the specific characteristics of the most different buildings and are based on the use of environmentally friendly and cost-effective materials and technologies.

KeoHabitat® provides energy performance in the A efficiency class, real guarantee of saving, verified by experimental tests under construction, at the end of the works and during operation.

For more information please write to info@keohabitat.com . The english version of the brochure is available here .

